

An Experience Like No Other Polk County Wines

Oregon's wine industry has been built on small wineries producing wines of impeccable quality. The state ranks third in the United States in number of wineries, and fourth in wine production. Oregon has a rich geological legacy and varied climates that nurture a wine country where cool-climate and warm-climate varieties grow mere miles from one another.

Polk County is a place where winemakers are stewards of the land, where quality reigns, sustainability in a lifestyle and producers believe that careful attention to detail and delicate nurturing produce incredible wines. It's a place where old and new generations of winemakers work together to promote Oregon's fine wines. Mostly, Polk County is a place that makes superb wine without any pretense. It is a place where visitors are always welcome and where the winemaker is just around the corner.
